

Justin Stanford enters his third year with the Stars men's basketball team. Stanford came to Siegel after serving as student assistant at Tennessee Tech University in Cookeville, TN, where he graduated in spring 2009 with a Bachelor of Science degree in secondary education-science. He also brings experience coaching middle school boy's basketball, AAU basketball, as well as several basketball camps throughout the southeast.

Stanford's responsibilities with the Stars men's basketball team include freshmen assistant coach, varsity statistician, and several other responsibilities with monitoring player workouts, summer camps, and administrative duties.